ASSESSMENTS REMOVED.

Barren County Believed to Be Fourteen Per Cent. Rate.

The State Board of Equalization, in session at Frankfort last week, removed the intended rate of 14 per cent. on land and 8 on town lots in Barren county. The effect of oil wells in that county gave a fictitious valuation to property.

Clark was reduced from 8 to 3 per cent. on land and the 5 on town lots was taken off.

Todd county got a reduction from 20 to 16 per cent. raise on land, and the 8 on town lots was not removed. Webster and Boone could not establish their claim to a reduction and the 20 per cent. increase on land and 4 on town lots in Boone will remain as first fixed by the board. Nicholas county was reduced on land from 20 to 12 per cent., and Allen had the 6 per cent. on land removed.

A few more counties notified the board of their desire for a hearing. The Secretary will now make his calculations of the amounts raised or decreased in each county, and tabulate the assessed and equalized valuations, after which Auditor Norton will be ready to send the official action of the board and authority to the Sheriff in each county for beginning at once upon the collection of the revenue. This official notice could be sent some time next week, but the Legislature not having acted upon the tax rate, which is part of the Revenue and Taxation bill, may cause a delay. The rate for the past two years was 42 cent on the $100 valuation, and, of course, unless it is repealed it will continue as the rate for the present year. While it is not, therefore, necessary that the Legislature should take action on the tax rate, there is good reason to believe that in the general and wholesale changes in the revenue law now under consideration the tax rate is most likely to be also somewhat affected. If Sheriffs then should begin to collect at 42 cents and learn a month later that the rate had been increased or lowered, it would not only make double trouble and annoyance for them, but also worry and confuse the taxpayers who may be required to pay the extra taxes.

FLOODS IN THE SOUTH.

The Reports to Life and Property Has

Desertion sent out from West Point, Miss., of the devastation caused by the late waters had not been at all exaggerated, but, in fact, understated. The destruction both of property and life has been awful, and the end is not yet at hand. The Mobile & Ohio, Georgia Pacific and Illinois Central railroads have all been blocked up for the past seven days, but the first train is able to get two trains a day through. The damage done on the Mobile & Ohio in the vicinity of West Point alone will not fall short of $40,000, while the other two roads have been each damaged at least twice that sum.

The first train for seven days on the Georgia Pacific passed through West Point on the 15th inst., but did not go as far as Columbus. All the creeks have exhausted their over-supply of water, but the Tombigbee river is yet as high as ever, and is causing great damage.

The loss of life along the Tombigbee river is said to be nearly 250, principally negroes. Much stock has been drowned, and crop and other planting is necessarily retarded. The damage to bridges, stock, buildings and crops on the Tombigbee, in one county alone, will reach $100,000.

The flood is raging in the Mississippi. At Memphis, on the 15th, it was in a few inches of the danger line. The bottoms are covered with water below Memphis, and several persons have been drowned.

A VOTING MACHINE.

Impossible to Vote Twice or Fraudulently, Counts the Vote.

The Meyers voting machine was first put into practical operation at Lockport, New York, Tuesday. Representatives of leading papers throughout the State and many politicians from the neighboring States as well as New York were in attendance. The machine was unanimously voted a success. The booth is constructed of iron and is about seven feet high by five feet square. The ordinary voter did not require any special training to fifteen seconds to register his ballots for between 15 and 20 candidates. By the workings of the machine it is absolutely impossible to vote twice or fraudulently. The button opposite any candidate's name being pushed in, is at once locked, as are the buttons of other candidates for the same office, only the button being pushed registering. The closing of the exit door unlocks the buttons and the booth is ready for the admission of another voter. The machine is a time and money saver.

After the closing the polls only ten minutes were required to open the back of the machine to announce the results and register the total number of votes for each of the 64 candidates, a process that under the usual register of counting ballots requires at least three hours.

KENTUCKY LAND GRANTS.

Complications That Exist in the Eastern Section of the State.

The action of the General Assembly in passing the bill requiring that persons bringing suits on old Virginia and Kentucky land claims based on patents dated prior to 1882, shall have paid taxes on a rather peculiar state of affairs in the mountains, especially between the adjacent to the branches of the Big Sandy, where, within the past ten years, hundreds of thousands of acres of land have been thrown into litigation. This land has been settled up and occupied under the laws of Kentucky within the last seventy or eighty years. About ten years ago, when, by reason of the great development of the mineral resources of the mountain districts, this land began to increase in value, certain persons in the East laid claim to thousands of acres of the title to which had been unquestioned for half a century. These claims were at first laughed to scorn, till it developed that there was at least some shadow of reason in the claims urged. Many years ago, it develops, the State of Virginia granted certain tracts of land in the then county of Kentucky to citizens of Virginia. Some of the beneficiaries crossed the Blue Ridge and located their grants, defining the boundaries with reference to natural objects. They would return to Virginia, and others would obtain grants by describing tracts of land by means of their situation with reference to the land already described. Those obtaining the concessions of land in many instances never were in the country west of the mountains and the claims had long since been forgotten in Virginia, and had never been heard of by the settlers in Kentucky, when the Eastern claimants, as stated, presented themselves a few years since.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH.

The County Superintendent of Perry County.

Word reached here last week that G. L. Combs, County Superintendent of Perry county, was shot from ambush on Tuesday while going on horseback from Hazard to his home, fourteen miles distant from the county seat. The shooting occurred at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, on Carr's Fork, near his residence. The ball seemed to belong to a rifle. It entered the loins, and the wounded man thinks it will prove fatal.

No clew to the guilty persons has yet been discovered. Perry county has heard the discharge of the gun and supposed it some one halting and snoring, but Mr. Combs came galloping up and told them that he was shot.

Mr. Combs is one of the best men in Perry county, and a most efficient officer. He has been making great progress in building up the schools of the county that had been neglected for several years in account of the feud that had been raging there. He had no connection with the French-Eversole feud. He has been having trouble with his neighbors over real estate transactions, and the presumption is that these have been the cause of the tragedy. The Sheriff and posse started at once in search of the would be assassin.

A Turfman With a History.

The Louisville Truth in noting the fact that James T. Williams, the well known and popular turfman of Eminence, had purchased a handsome building to be on Fourth avenue, Louisville, and would at once erect a fine residence, to be occupied by his family when completed, adds: "Mr. Williams is a turfman with a history. He began life as a newsboy on the railroad trains between Frankfort and Lexington, but being a smart fellow with an eye to the future, he got out of that business as he found something better to do. This led into the thoroughbred horse business. The first valuable horse he ever owned was that honest old campaigner, Fair Play. Afterward he owned the great Checkmate, Enquirer, Aspinwall, Bob Miles, Tom Hood, and the Hon. John G. Carlisle; my secretary other good ones. Checkmate alone made him a fortune in the east. Mr. Williams was also the original owner of Luke Blackburn, which great horse he sold to the Dwyers, in his two-year-old form, for $25,000. He is rich man now, and very naturally comes to the metropolis of his State to live in style and comfort. He has a great many friends in Louisville who will be glad to welcome him as a permanent resident."

NEW WORLD'S FAIR SCHEME.

An immense Dormitory for the Use of Women Who Will Visit the Big Show.

Mrs. Potter Palmer and nine other well-known women connected with the Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair at a meeting recently held at Chicago decided to organize under the name of "Chicago Women's Dormitory Association," with the purpose of erecting a building for the accommodation of women visiting Chicago in connection with the Fair, particularly those of limited means. Active arrangements were left in the hands of Mrs. Matilda B. Case. The site, it is expected, will be within twelve squares of Jackson Park and will be contributed free by George M. Pullman. The aim is to have a structure that will comfortably lodge 5,000 women at a cost of thirty to forty cents a day each.

MURDEROUS SCHEME.

Mutineers Among the Soldiers Located

Matthys is the latest thing in the camps of the army of Tennessee stationed on the mountain overlooking the convict stockade and works of the Knoxville iron company at Coal Creek. Twelve private have been holding little secret meetings, and they formed a clique called "The Dirty Dozen," with documents drawn up swearing allegiance to one another in an attempt to overpower the guards and hang two of the non-commissioned officers, who, it seems, had won the dislike of these rebels.

On the men weakened and gave the whole thing away to an officer, and now eleven of the twelve are in chains, under heavy guard, awaiting court martial. The principal leader of the mutineers is Alley Moore, an ex-convict, who had just been pardoned by the governor for desertion from the same camp and army. Every day adds a few to the number of soldiers stationed there, but the miners, from all appearance, have given up all idea of trying to remove them.

Wants Palmer.

A Lexington correspondent to the Courier-Journal, signing himself "A Rank and File Democrat," writes: "It is of the utmost importance that the Democratic party, of which I am an humble member and non-officer-holder, must lay aside all personal preferences and nominate a man for President at Chicago who will win the race. My first choice is Kentucky's gifted and favorite son and personal preference would be honest George Patton, a brave and strong enough to stand up for justice and equality to the whole people. Let us go to Chicago in search of such a man, determined to let our personal preferences take a back seat, and we will certainly win. I am old enough to have seen many Presidential contests, and can testify that while the Democrats won they always nominated men for vanity. Not from choice of the leaders or factions, Palmer and Russell would sweep the country."

A Candidate's Denial.

The organs are rapidly coming in out of the west. The Indianapolis Sentinel, the leading Democratic paper in Indiana, has deserted Gray, who is only a Hill foil, and is advocating Cleveland. The Brooklyn Eagle, the organ of the King county Democracy, has declared for Cleveland. The Syracuse Journal, another influential paper in New York State, has shifted to Cleveland. The State Ledger, one of the leading papers in Mississippi, and whose editor introduced a resolution in favor of Hill the day he addressed the Mississippi Legislature, has discarded Hill and declares that "the nominee must be Cleveland." The Selma Times-Mail, which frequently boasted that it was the "original Hill advocate in Alabama," has declared for Cleveland. The Memphis Ledger, which a few weeks ago was advising Tennessee newspapers to join the Hill procession if they wanted to be "in it" has nothing more to say in Hill's behalf, and its editor, who has recently visited New York City for three months in anticipation of a murderous assault by the John Felands, Nos. 1 and 2.

Justifiable Murder.

Isaac Axton, who about one month ago shot and killed Jim Wilson, a revenue storekeeper, in a street fight in Henderson, was acquitted last week on the ground of self-defense. Axton stated under oath that he had carried an open dirk knife in his pocket for three months in anticipation of a murderous assault by the John Felands, Nos. 1 and 2.

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER, - - - Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.:
FRIDAY, April 22, 1892.

Our space is taken up largely this week with the Poll and Ad Valorem Tax bill adopted by the General Assembly and signed by the Governor, as we consider it a matter of very great importance to the people of this section.

POLL AND AD VALOREM TAX.

Full Text of the Measure as Amended, Adopted and Signed by the Governor.

One of the most important and far-reaching bills that have passed the present General Assembly is that authorizing the County Courts to levy a poll and ad valorem tax for county purposes. The bill as amended, adopted and signed by the Governor is as follows:

That the Court of Claims or Fiscal Court of each county in this Commonwealth is hereby authorized to levy and collect a poll and ad valorem tax, to pay off the existing current indebtedness and to defray the current and necessary expenses of the respective counties of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. But this section shall not be construed so as to authorize the Court of Claims or Fiscal Court of any county to levy a tax to pay any railroad bonded indebtedness or any interest on such indebtedness. That the poll tax shall not exceed one dollar and fifty cents on each male person of the age of twenty-one years or more, residing in the county. The ad valorem tax shall not exceed fifty cents on the one hundred dollars' worth of taxable property assessed in the county.

That the assessment made for State purposes, when supervised as required by law, shall be the basis for the levy and collection of the ad valorem tax authorized in the preceding section, and the officer who may collect the State revenue in each county shall also collect the ad valorem tax.

That the Sheriff or other officer who may collect these taxes shall annually, before he proceeds to do so, execute bond to the Commonwealth of Kentucky, in the County Court of each respective county, with one or more sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to double the amount of the taxes likely to come into his hands, for a faithful performance of his duty, and to pay over in due time to the proper party, as directed by the court, all money collected by him; said bond to be approved by order of the County Court, and when approved, to be recorded in the order book and safely kept by the County Court Clerk; and the officer collecting said taxes shall be allowed the same compensation as officers are who collect the State revenue; and he shall annually settle his accounts with the Court of Claims or Fiscal Court as such collector, and may be required to settle often, in the discretion of said court, by order entered of record, a copy of which shall be served on the officer; and his settlements shall show the amount of poll tax, and also the amount of ad valorem tax collected, and an itemized statement of the moneys disbursed, and the same shall be published for at least two weeks in a paper published in the county having the largest circulation therein, if any be published in the county; if none, then the settlement shall be published by written or printed handbills, posted at the front door of the Court House, and at least three other public places in the county.

Said taxes shall be due at such times as the State revenue is, and any one owing same who shall fail or refuse to pay the same when due, shall be subject to the same penalties prescribed by law for the non-payment of the State revenue, to be enforced by the same proceedings.

The poll tax being limited to one dollar and fifty cents by the Constitution, and this, together with the ad valorem tax allowed to be collected by existing law, being greatly insufficient to pay off the existing current indebtedness and to defray the current expenses of many, if not all, the counties in the State, and said counties now having no authority to supplement the poll by an ad valorem tax to meet such expenses, therefore an emergency exists, and is hereby declared, and for these reasons this act shall take effect and be in force when approved by the Governor.

JOHN P. SALVER SPEAKS.

Not Refrains to Recognize the Fact That HILL IS NOT "A TO DO."

WEST LIBERTY, April 18, 1892.

EDITH HAZEL GREEN HERALD: I see in your paper of recent date allusion to me, as being spoken of as a suitable person to go to Chicago, as one of the Democratic delegates from this Congressional district, in which is expressed the sole condition upon which I may hope for the support of THE HERALD, in thus being commissioned by the Democracy of this district, is my unqualified and unconditional support of THE HERALD's candidate, without variations or shadow of tinging. The accomplishment of an object by false colors, under cover of reticence, is as reprehensible as victory won by pronounced deception. Consequently I must be candid, not only with THE HERALD, but with its readers and readers, in the up-building of Democratic majorities in this Congressional district.

In seeking the position as delegate to the National Democratic Convention, I do so partly to gratify a personal ambition and chiefly to contribute in my humble way to the election of a candidate who has the undivided support and confidence of the party neighbors, and whose fidelity to the principles and organization of the Democratic party is unquestioned and unquestionable; whose fidelity and devotion to personal and party friends have ever been such as to free him even from the suspicion of ingratitude; one whose public and private life are free from spot, blemish, and beyond all, and in connection with these, I want a candidate who will be elected, not nursing the disappointment of a conscientious one; one who herds only with Democratic principles, and not with party passions; one who has a warm spot in his heart for the boys in the trenches and for whose success these boys will willingly and zealously labor.

It is this kind of a candidate the Democracy of this district was named at Chicago, then I am in line with their desires. I am wedded to the aspirations of no particular candidate, but all else being equal my personal preference is decidedly for Mr. Carlisle, because he is my personal friend and the most distinguished citizen of this Commonwealth, a reliable Democrat, a true friend of the people and the intellectual equal of anybody. If it should be the opinion of the delegates at the convention that he has a reasonably fair show to carry the doubtful States necessary to secure Democratic success, his chances for the nomination are equal to those of any gentleman mentioned in connection therewith. Carlisle belongs to no section in his party; he is a cosmopolitan Democrat in whom both labor and capital confide, and well they may for he is a conservative statesman.

Most intelligent Democrats recognize the fact that the vote of New York is necessary to Democratic success, and this being conceded, with the present factional fight existing between the Cleveland contingent and the party organization which favors Hill, I think it would be the shrewdest political folly to nominate either of these distinguished gentlemen. However, from the plaintive wail of many, and the imperious demand of more of our newspaper friends, one is led to believe that the Democratic party would be orphaned were our Grover gone, and his nomination now the only means of preventing the disintegration of this time-honored political organization to which we belong. Parties as well as individuals should profit by experience, and we failed to elect Mr. Cleveland with the power and prestige of his administration, at his back aided in the effort, and now with the lever of the Federal patronage in the hands of the enemy, who has the hardihood to assure victory with Cleveland as our candidate, and that, too, when the Democracy of his own State has overwhelmingly pronounced against him by almost unanimously recommending another. I have no abuse for Mr. Cleveland, for he is an able and distinguished leader of our party of whom I, in common with the Democratic masses, am proud, but the past failure, his own expressed misgivings as to the wisdom of his nomination as the Democratic candidate, and many unpromising circumstances which encircle his aspirations, appear to me to make it an absolute party duty to select another.

I am no her worshipper, but I must confess that I have great admiration for the leadership, party and Democratic make-up of Senator Hill, and believe him to be an honest, able and efficient public servant, and regarded as a political leader, and I do this notwithstanding the unwarranted and ill-considered assaults made upon him by his own party press, whose better judgment is belied by the fact that the promotion of Cleveland, forgetting in their ardor for one of the great party service and matchless leadership of the other. To them the desire in Mr. Cleveland to be President is a Democratic virtue, but to a like aspiration in Mr. Hill is a political heresy. In their eye the supporters of Hill in New York, with Grover, Flower at the head, are the enemies of the Democracy, while the bolters and disgruntled who favor Mr. Cleveland are reliable and trustworthy Democrats. I want to say to our Democratic friends of the press, if Hill is the bad man you would make us believe he is, please file a bill of particulars setting forth his un-American and disreputable conduct, and if you cannot do this, content to praise your idol and bottle up your gall, or vent your spleen on our political enemies. Hill's chief sin in his great popularity with the New York Democracy, if it can be consistently with honor and honesty, it is our duty to speak against it, and to the victors belong the spoils. Your friend,

JOHN P. SALVER.

25 HILLS FOR REGULAR ADVERTISING PAYABLE QUARTERLY ON DEMAND.

Address SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky.

Mrs. Phoebe Yocum, of Hazel, who was visiting friends at this place last week, has returned home.

Bruce Little, of Jackson, a former student of Hazel Green Academy, was visiting friends here last week.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt will preach at the Frank Sunday school home, on Lacy Creek, Sunday at 10:30 o'clock.

WANTED—A middle-aged woman, to cook, wash and iron for small family; good salary to right one. Apply at this office.

W. O. Mize, enrolling clerk of the Senate, came up Tuesday to see his wife and son and remain over until after the election.

Married, on Thursday, the 14th inst., by Rev. J. T. Pieratt, at his residence, John H. Brooks and Miss Mary Lacy, all of this county.

Mrs. J. Taylor Day and little daughter Daisy, who have been visiting relatives at Mt. Sterling for sometime past, returned home Tuesday.

Scott Lacy, a brother of our fellow-townsmen, W. G. Lacy, accompanied Jeff Wells and wife to their home in Iowa, and will in future make his home with them.

Register Swango and wife came up Tuesday from Frankfort to spend a short season with friends and relatives at this place, and the Judge wanted to be here to cast his vote for Joe Kendall for Congress.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Hazel Green Fair Association held on the first Saturday in May to elect officers for the ensuing year, and President Rose requests a full attendance at 2 p. m.

J. B. Cecil, of Morgan county, was here Tuesday with his horse, Forrest Stonewall, and will again be here on Tuesday, May 3, for three days, after which he will return every two weeks. He certainly has in Forrest Stonewall a very handsome horse.

Do not fail to read the mammoth advertisement of J. T. Day & Co., which appears in this issue of our paper. The list of bargains therein contained is the grandest ever offered the people of this community, and people with a little cash money can buy a multitude of goods.

Lost—A badge with the name J. M. Davidson engraved on the back. There is a small gold charm and pin with monogram of J. M. D. on the pin. There is a Greek inscription on badge. It was lost April 4th, and the finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving at this office.

Our young friend, W. G. Lacy, will resign the position of Secretary to the Hazel Green Fair Association at the meeting of that organization in May, when his successor will be elected. Mr. Lacy has held the position since the association was organized, and it will be hard to secure a man so generally liked as Grant.

Our old friend Chas. E. Habicht, who was a faithful attaché of this establishment for fourteen months ending last November is again with us. The people of Hazel Green were glad to welcome him back, and those of his country friends who have not yet seen him may find him at THE HERALD office at all times, where he will be ready and willing to wait on them.

Would Rather Do Without Breakfast.

TORRENT, April 20, 1892.
MR. SPENCER COOPER—Dear Editor: You will please find enclosed $1 for which you may send me your valuable paper for the next twelve months, as it will give me the news and also tell me of my old friends of Texas. My girls Annie and Mollie say they would much rather do without their breakfast every Sunday morning than to be without THE HERALD. You will also find enclosed $1 for which you may send my brother your paper for one year. You may address him, Andrew A. Adams, Whitesburg, Letcher county, Ky. Hoping you will send me your paper, my family joins me in sending out their love for the good old HERALD.

Yours, with much regard,
JESSE ADAMS.

J. E. QUICKSALL, Chairman,
County and District Com.

I wish to say to the good people of Hazel Green and Hazel that I wish to return them my heartfelt thanks for the many favors they bestowed on me in my distress since the fire. I hope and pray the good Lord to bless them if I am never able to do so myself. I do think they deserve my thanks. May the Lord bless us all and help us do our part in developing our country and people in morals and Christianity. THE HERALD will please publish. Yours as ever,
D. G. COMBS and FAMILY.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells, who have been visiting relatives and friends in and around Hazel Green for a month past, left for their home at Bedford, Iowa, Friday. Mrs. Wells is a sister of W. T. Caskey, and she and her husband lived here a long time, but twenty years ago they left for the west, and there they have since resided. They like that country very much, but think Hazel Green has improved wonderfully during their absence.

W. B. Hays, who has been with us since the dormitory was established in our town, and who was a faithful employee of that institution, left for his home at Bridgeport, Ill., this week. Will Hays made many friends during his stay among us, and with them THE HERALD joins in the best wishes for his future prosperity.

Our better- is a scarlet geranium which is in full bloom and measures 7 feet 6 inches from top of ground to top of plant. It is the largest specimen of this geranium we have ever seen, and we should like to know if any one has ever seen a larger one.

S. P. Davidson and J. W. Hatcher, of Wolfe, Floyd county, were guests of the Day House Friday. They were here in the interest of their kinsman, Hon. J. M. Kendall, and left for home Saturday, after subscribing for THE HERALD.

Hon. W. M. Kendall, of West Liberty, was a guest of the Day House Friday, and was most interesting in counting out the tickets for his kinsman, Hon. J. M. Kendall, and sending them to the several counties in the district.

Hon. Joseph M. Kendall was a guest of the Day House Friday, and left Saturday for Menifee, Montgomery and Clark counties to see his constituents.

Campton Curer.

A. C. Byrd will soon have his new house completed.

G. W. Drake has purchased of J. B. Hollon the house and lot formerly owned by A. T. Hurst.

G. T. Center has been at Clay City during the past week overseeing the sawing of his timber at the Clay City mills.

A. A. Stamper is off on a business trip to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. He will perhaps be gone for three or four weeks.

C. M. Hanks, Sr., is now very ill. It is thought by his attending physician, J. H. Stamper, M. D., that he will not likely recover.

Work is starting up again on Wm. L. Hurst's brick dwelling. He is building a brick 52x52 feet, two stories high. When completed it will be by far the finest house in town.

W. N. Allen, the representative of Almaty & Allen, of Milwaukee, Wis., was in town Saturday and Sunday. He has now gone back to Lee City, in which vicinity he will take up a lot of poplar, ash and pine timber.

Jerniah Elkins has moved into G. W. Robinson's new dwelling, which is now about completed. C. C. Hanks has moved into the Isaac Elkins property, which he purchased some time ago. W. H. P. MORGAN COUNTY.

Maytown Millers.

Miss Ada Willis is improving slowly, but the doctor thinks surely.

Anderson Ayers has been very sick, but is somewhat better today.

Mrs. Wiley Carter, of Bonny, was visiting relatives and friends in and near town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. May and little Carl were visiting Saturday and Sunday at J. B. Cecil's and J. D. Henry's, on Blackwater.

Business, that is not likely to be profitable in the end, is moving on with its usual activity in and near town. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

E. W. Meeks, W. W. Manker's boss miller, last week came near getting cut up with the circular saw. So near that his watch chain was cut off close to his vest pocket. Ed, it didn't do monkey with a running saw mill.

Nice growing weather, and this reminds us that corn planting will soon be the order of the day, and that Joe M. Kendall will be our next Congressman and Grover Cleveland the next President, not of the Democratic party but of the people of the United States.

Massachusetts Democratic... Cleveland, Ohio, Friday, to the National Convention. They were not instructed, but the Convention was distinctly a Cleveland meeting and declared its preference for the President. The platform, which is admirable both in contents and construction, advocates tariff reform and economic government, and opposes the free coinage of silver without international agreement. The delegates chosen are strong for Cleveland and tariff reform.

Consumption Cured.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NUYES, 820 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

Organization.
An address is being sent out from the headquarters of the National Association of Democratic Clubs at Washington, urging the necessity of prompt, efficient and general organization for the campaign. It should be headed by Democrats. Organization is the greatest single power in politics. A careful examination would probably show that the doubtful States are always carried by the party having the best organization.

Crab Orchard Springs has been sold to a syndicate of Indianapolis capitalists, who will convert the old and watering place into an institute for the bio-chloride of gold treatment for the opium and liquor habits. The price paid for the property was $100,000. The new owners have bought of Dr. Kewley the sole right for the use of his remedies in Kentucky, and propose to establish at Crab Orchard one of the finest sanitariums in the country.

For lame back there is nothing better than to saturate the lower limbs with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on the affected parts. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The same treatment will cure rheumatism. For sale by Rose & Jones.

Fourth dam Jesse by Thomas Jefferson. He is a beautiful black, with right hind white, stands 15 1/2 hand high, and is a perfect horse for every purpose, being a substance, combined with the form and finish characteristic of the cross he so well represents, viz. Hanoverian sire and Mambrino Patchen dam. This cross stands as the very best, because public performances have demonstrated its value. Of course, representatives not one is the superior of Bermuda, for not one has demonstrated the same ability in a career year by year, beginning with the yearling form. None are better bred or better looking.

As a sire, he is assured, as set out of eight, his first crop, two entered the list last year (two year olds, namely Bermuda Bay 2:30 and the dam of Excelsior 2:28). Bermuda Bay being one of the best we have raised in 1891, his first colts are all well bred, with speed unprecedented. He will stand for mares, season of 1892, at $250. To insure the money to be paid as follows: $100 at the time of service, and the other $150 when the mare proves in foal, being limited to thirty outside mares. Parties wishing to breed to him had better book their mares early.
